Workshop led by: Chuck Durrett and The Cohousing Company

www.cohousingco.com

Chuck is a leading expert on cohousing and has designed over fifty cohousing communities and consulted on many more. Chuck with Kathryn McCamant introduced cohousing to North America with the book (in its second edition), "Creating Cohousing: Building Sustainable Communities." Chuck also authored "The Senior Cohousing Handbook: A Community Approach to Independent Living," an invaluable resource for aging-in-community.

This workshop shares best practices and lessons learned throughout 30 years of experience, while also recognizing each community is unique and each group needs to decide what approach makes the most sense for its specific location and situation. More cohousing communities have been started by the Getting-It-Built Workshop than by any other method in North America. With this workshop, you will get it built!!
